

BAILEY'S B.A.S.H. Black History Celebration

February 27th @ 7:00pm
Timberland High School Auditorium

Creating Hope and Celebrating History

Join Bailey's B.A.S.H. Foundation and the community of St. Stephen in their annual celebration of Black History Month. This year's celebration will take place on Saturday, February 27, 2010 at 7:00pm. The event will be held at the Timberland High School Auditorium. Participants from all over the region are expected to come celebrate the organization's largest black history effort to date.

Among the highlights of this year's event is a Talent and Fashion Showcase. This event will kick off the day's celebrations and will feature performances by award winning Gullah story teller, educator, singer, and actress Anita Singleton-Prather. The historian portrays the well loved Aunt Pearl Sue who is a character she developed. Through her Gullah heritage, Prather will entertain and educate attendees of all ages about the rich African culture in America.

Other highlights during this celebration include national celebrity hosts along with special performances by area singers, dancers, comedians, poetry/spoken word and musical groups. The Fashion Showcase will feature a glimpse at the latest fashion and accessories for the entire family.

The signature component of Bailey's B.A.S.H. Foundation will feature resources to assist the underserved. As always, the foundation will have information on jobs, transportation, housing, and education opportunities for its attendees.

As a further service to the community, the Bailey's B.A.S.H. Foundation has officially opened the doors to its long awaited HOPE Center. The facility is located in the historic city of St. Stephen. It is designed to rebuild and strengthen the community by providing a place for education, business and family recreation for every citizen.

Some of its services include: after school learning programs, job coaching and mentoring, life skills, transitional housing, grants, business services and much more.

This event is an outreach project of Bailey's B.A.S.H. Foundation. B.A.S.H. is an acronym that stands for Belief w/ Action Serves Humanity. The non profit organization offers a wealth of resources at its resource center currently in the city of St. Stephen. It will continue its reach by building additional resource centers for the underserved in Charleston and Berkeley Counties and will extend to all 50 states.
